BASIC FIRST HEALTH CARE TO PATIENTS, IMMUNISATION AND INJECTION TECHNIQUES FOR PHARMACISTS (4 CPD Credit Points)

PCM Recognized and MQA Approved

Batch Starting from
2nd August 2025

INTRODUCTION

Pharmacists are very much accessible, as they are well placed within communities as an important point of contact with the health care system. Pharmacists are well trained professionals, and offer various services to the public, hence playing a pivotal role in the delivery of primary health care services. Pharmacists can also promote public health through immunizations and increase immunization coverage. Pharmacists act ahead and proactive as educators, facilitators and vaccinators. It is essential for pharmacists to be trained as basic first health care providers as well as vaccinators and be skilled in practical immunization and injection techniques.

OBJECTIVES OF THE COURSE

1. Provide immediate medical care in an emergency.
2. Prioritizing injuries and actions in an emergency.
3. Practice vaccination and injection (IM and SC)
4. Promote and advocate the immunization

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

Participants must be registered as Pharmacists with the Pharmacy Council of Mauritius.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSE

Basic First Health Care

1. Managing an incident
2. Treatment of an unconscious adult, baby and child who is breathing – recovery position
3. Treatment of an unconscious adult, baby or child who is not breathing – CPR
4. Importance of a defibrillator and how to use an AED
5. Heart Attack and Angina

Immunization and Injection

1. This training would allow pharmacists to become vaccinators, and vaccine advocates, promote the importance of immunization in reducing vaccine-preventable diseases, help dispel myths associated with vaccines, and improve public confidence in vaccines.
2. This would require pharmacist vaccinators to be able to read and interpret immunization schedules, and safely administer vaccines and injection via all prescribed routes of administration (specifically IM and SC)

PROGRAMME METODOLOGY

The course will be a hybrid of online lectures and a face-to-face workshop.

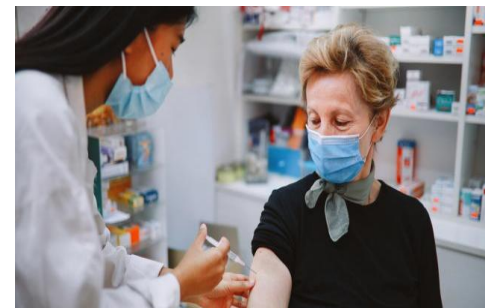

DURATION: 24 hours (Sessions of 6 hours on 4 Saturdays)

FEES: 12000 MUR (including light veg meal)

BATCH: 30 participants (First Come First Served)
The course will be run every alternative month.
